COUP D'ETAT IN PEKING; WU CUT OFF

ROWDYISM IN CAMPAIGNING IN ENGLAND IS DENOUNCED

Election Disorders Commented Upon By Press

SEE ALIEN HAND

Labor Denies Part In Organisation Of Agitators

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 23.—Rowdyism at election meetings in various parts of the country is given much prominence in the press.

An official of the Unionist headquarters denounced the breaking up of Unionist and Liberal meetings as an introduction of Bolshevist methods in English politics. The Liberal headquarters assert that the rowdies are not electors and that many appear to be of alien origin. They also state that the disturbances seem to be organised. The Labor headquarters emphatically deny the allegations that they are in any way connected with the disturbances. An official of the Labor Party declared that Labor's opponents, if they persisted in misrepresentation could not be surprised if their audiences showed that the limit of human endurance had been reached, but the Labor Party desired that every facility for full and open discussion should be maintained.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 23.—Mr. Baldwin in a speech at Gravesend said that the Unionist Party would not go back on its pledge regarding Colonial Preference nor propose the taxation of food.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 24.—Mr. Baldwin's statement at Gravesend is in the nature of a reply to the Liberals, who are developing an anti-protectionist campaign. Mr. Baldwin declared that he would not depart from the pledges given to the Dominions representatives last year regarding Imperial preference, but he said that such a policy would not involve taxation of food.

Mr. Neville Chamberlain, speaking at Walsall, declared that while the Conservatives did not intend to introduce a general tariff they were free to protect any particular industry which was being undermined by unfair competition by the introduction of a new Safeguarding of Industries Bill.

WAHABI LEADER SPURNS SCHEME FOR MEDIATION

Proposal For Settlement Of Dispute With Hedjaz Ruler Too Late

(Reuter's Service)

Jerusalem, Oct. 23.—Ibn Saud, Sultan of Nejd, has telegraphed to the Moslem Supreme Council, who offered to mediate between him and the Hedjaz, saying that he is grieved that mediation has arrived too late, and declaring that for the last seven years he has done his utmost to conciliate ex-king Hussein and to attain peace and concord but in vain. He says that ex-King Hussein's attitude became more haughty and obstinate while his proclamations proved that he was aiming at the disruption of his (Ibn Saud's) territory. Ex-King Hussein for six years prevented the Wahabis from making pilgrimages to Mecca. He was unable to maintain the security of Mecca and Medina or to guarantee the safety of Moslem pilgrims. Ibn Saud declares that the Wahabis' sole purpose was to tranquillise the situation in the Hedjaz and to ensure the future of their country. They desired an administration in the Hedjaz which would guarantee the rights of all Moslems, provide for the comfort of pilgrims and remove all injustices and grievances.

Philippine National Bank Reorganisation Plan Is Laid Before Legislature

Optimistic View Of Present Situation Is Taken By Mr. J. P. Heilbroon, Bank Director, Here En Route To Washington For Conference

Plans for the reorganisation of the Philippine National Bank, which several years ago suffered very sad losses, are being undertaken in Manila, Mr. J. P. Heilbronn, president of the J. P. Heilbronn company of Manila, a through passenger on the President Taft, enroute to the United States, said yesterday.

And with the reorganisation of the bank through recapitalisation, a plan which promises to put financial conditions on a sounder basis in the Philippines, come reports from the south that a bumper year is predicted for 1925 with a good price being paid for crops of the Philippines.

The biggest sugar crop ever known in the history of the islands is expected to result from this year's planting, Mr. Heilbronn said. The Philippine National Bank has given freely to the planters in the matter of crop loans. The bank also is operating several sugar centrals.

The net earnings of the bank on sugar alone in 1924 and 1925 are expected to be around 4,000,000 pesos, Mr. Heilbronn said.

UP TO LEGISLATURE

The reorganisation plans for the bank are now before the Philippine legislature. The plans provide that an attempt be made to take from the control of the bank all business of the sugar centrals and the many other holdings of the bank, all the business to be handled by a new corporation which will take over the centrals and other agricultural loans.

Mr. Heilbronn, a director of the Philippine National Bank and a member of the executive board of the bank, will visit in Washington, expecting to converse with President Coolidge in relation to Philippine conditions. He will also visit in New York on private business before returning to Manila.

"The present board of directors of the bank are working in complete harmony for the best interests of the bank," Mr. Heilbronn said yesterday. "The board is made up of five Filipinos and four Americans. None of the members has any personal or political interests in the bank."

FILIPINOS IN CHARGE

A Filipino is acting general manager of the bank, succeeding Mr. E. W. Wilson who is now in the banking business in San Francisco. A Filipino is also president of the board of directors.

Mr. Heilbronn paid tribute to Governor General Leonard Wood, saying he had the best interests of the Filipino people at heart and that he was the hardest working governor general ever sent to the Philippines. Governor Wood has the interest of the Filipinos at heart more than any previous governor, Mr. Heilbronn believes.

COOLIDGE MAKES FINAL APPEAL TO U. S. ELECTORATE

Stresses Present Prosperity In Asking Support For Republicans

(Reuter's American Service)

Washington, Oct. 23.—With the approach of the national election on November 4, public interest is awakening. The oratorical efforts of the candidates are occupying a more prominent place in the news of the day.

President Coolidge this evening delivered what is expected to be his final appeal to the American people to return him to power in an address before the Eastern Division of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, which was broadcasted by radio to almost all parts of the country.

The President contended that the present Administration had brought an era of more than average prosperity and that in spite of the "natural supposition that every well-wisher of the country would be anxious to maintain the present established order there were now proposed two most revolutionary changes, namely, Government ownership of transportation and limitation of the powers of the Supreme Court of the United States."

President Coolidge held the former to be the most perilous to the welfare of business and the independence of the people, while the latter being wholly subversive to the American system of Government, would, if adopted, prove the people of the United States incapable of self-Government.

Turning to foreign affairs, the President promised co-operation with other nations in the interest of peace as long as the independence of the United States was not jeopardised. He declared for constitutional covenants outlawing aggressive warfare and reaffirmed the Government's opposition to international conferences for the discussion "purely of their own domestic affairs" and also the opposition of the Government to the cancellation of war debts due to the United States and the entrance of the United States into the League of Nations.

CHEN FLAYS SUN FOR PERMITTING 'RED' MASSACRE

Disarming Of Volunteers Is Still Proceeding In Canton Outskirts

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Canton, Oct. 19.—General Chen Chiung-ming is preparing a manifesto to the Cantonese denouncing the recent "massacre" in Canton by the Reds. The manifesto will say that when General Chen decided to withdraw from Canton City early in 1923 he was actuated by a desire to save the city from becoming a battle ground and so causing damage to property and danger to life. He was therefore astonished to learn of the destruction of a portion of the chief city of Kwangtung "under orders from Dr. Sun." The manifesto will state that General Chen's army is marching on the city to deliver his fellow provincials from water and fire.

The process of disarming the Merchant Volunteers at Fatshan, Tungkin, Sainam and other towns is reported to be still proceeding, but in several towns the volunteers are said to be holding their own.

HUPEH TROOPS STILL HERE; CHI RUSHES BRIGADE BACK

Local Plans Affected By Northern Coup D'Etat

RESCINDS ORDER

State Of Emergency In Settlement Is Off Now

The coup d'etat in Peking is apparently having a serious effect upon the readjustment of the local political situation and several plans had to be changed yesterday on account of the sudden change in the northern war situation.

General Chang Yung-ming, the Hupeh commender who entered Lunghua before any other victorious leader and who has been ordered by Marshal Wu Pei-fu to proceed to the Shanhaikwan front, failed to leave Shanghai as scheduled. Four trains were ready for the transportation of his troops to North, but his brigade as well as the two brigades he recently re-enlisted from the remants of Chwang Tso-ping's army remained in Lunghua yesterday. Lack of money for mobilisation as well as for salaries for the officers and men were said to be the cause of his refusal to move.

Marshal Chi Hsieh-yuan is moving heavy forces to Nanking upon the receipt of the news of the Northern development. The sixth mixed brigade under General Huang Tseng-kwei was ordered to Nanking to strengthen the defence of the Kiangsu capital and movement of this brigade began yesterday.

Marshal Chi's leiutenant in Shanghai, Bei Pao-shan, was unable to asume his acting office as Defence Commissioner of Sungkiang and Shanghai in view of the delay of General Chang's troops, who are holding the Arsenal as well as the Lunghua Yamen.

The Municipal Council, in a proclamation issued yesterday, rescinded the order for the state of emergency in the environs of the International Settlement.

Troops movements are still delaying the re-establishment of the Shanghai-Nanking Railway. Officials of the line say that passenger and freight services may be resumed on Monday.

U. S. MARINES DEMOBILISED

The American landed forces are being demobilised and sent back to the ships. Thursday night 100 marines evacuated the Riverside Power House and Toyu Cotton Mill where headquarters and barracks were. Tents, guns, provisions, ammunition and all men were transported to the Huron by the tender Alexandra.

Yesterday morning the Cavite marines under command of Captain Kearne left the Riverside camp to take quarters on board the Black Hawk. This closes the camp.

Sailors at the camp at the Waterworks Plant returned to their ships yesterday.

The officer in command of all the landed forces was Commander A. J. James, commanding the U.S.S. Pigeon. He has had an interesting career, having been in command of other landing forces in the near East. The officer in charge of all the landed marines was Captain Kearne. In charge of the camp at Waterworks was Lieut. Commander Robinson.

The Huron sailed for Chefoo yesterday. The Isabel, with the Rear Admiral McVay, who was Commander of all the ships and landed forces (American) will sail today. Many of the destroyers will sail south—some to Canton and others to Manila. Next week the only American ships in port will be the Black Hawk.

JAPAN RUSHING LAND AND NAVY FORCE TO NORTH

Troops And Destroyers Go To Tientsin And Shanhaikwan

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, Oct. 24.—In view of the sudden change in the political situation and also to ensure the safety of Japanese and foreign residents from possible outrages by troops which are likely to get out of hand, the Government has decided to despatch two destroyers from Port Arthur and Chinwangtao respectively to Tientsin, also two hundred troops from Port Arthur to Shanhaikwan.

Further developments in the situation in China will determine whether Japan may find it necessary to increase her forces according to the Boxer Protocol.

One Morning Wong Will Wake Up And Find Himself Dead

Bullet Passes Through His Clothing; He Notices It Next Day

When Wong Vung-ching, who works in a Yangtsepoo cotton mill and resides at No. 68 Sing Kong Li alleyway, examined his clothing on arising Thursday morning he conceded to himself that with luck such as his he should surely win the coming Fall Championships. Bullet holes, one and two, were plainly discernible in that portion of his long padded gown which had covered his breast the previous evening. And Wong never knew definitely that he had been shot at.

Wong's story, as related to police of the Yangtszepoo station, runs to the effect that on leaving the cotton mill where is employed Wednesday evening and starting homeward, he was accosted by a man whom he had never seen before, but who addressed him by his name and asked the "loan" of $500.

Never having been formally introduced to the gentleman, Wong hesitated a bit and suggested that this was a matter for deep thought and further conference. The gentleman seeking the loan agreed, and suggested that in lieu of a better place, they adjourn to Wong's house and talk the matter over. En route, Wong picked up a fellow-employe in the mill, and all three went to Wong's house.

There, the stranger reiterated his request for a loan. He was in urgent need, he said, and if Wong couldn't make it $500 he would be satisfied temporarily with $200 or even less. But Wong, fortified by the presence of his friend, saw no reason why he should loan anything at all to the unknown and told him so, adding that if he continued to press the matter he, Wong, would be obliged to call in the police.

Thereupon, the needy stranger apparently became frightened and beat a hasty retreat. Wong and his friend followed him out into the alleyway. When the stranger was about fifteen yards off, they saw him turn and heard a report, as though of a shot, although they saw no pistol. Then the stranger ran off, and Wong and his friend returned to Wong's home to meditate on his odd request.

Police search of the alleyway in the morning confirmed Wong's day-after suspicions that he had been shot at. A .32 caliber automatic cartridge, spent was found nearby. Examination of Wong's gown showed that the bullet must have passed within a few inches of his breast, but never scratched him.

Encircling Movement Is Undertaken By Fengtien Army

WOULD CUT LINE

Early Termination Of Struggle Is Seen Now

(Eastern News Agency)

Tientsin, Oct. 24.—While the war situation in the Shanhaikwan sector remains unchanged, it is learned from an unquestionable source that Marshal Wu Pei-fu on the 18th instant suggested to President Tsao Kun that he thought it advisable for him to retreat as far back as Luanchow where he wanted to strengthen the defence lines but that President Tsao is alleged to have advised Marshal Wu to stick to the positions in the Shanhaikwan sector, for fear that the morale of the Chihli troops should be greatly affected.

On the 20th instant, Marshal Wu again wired to President Tsao Kun, stating that he had decided to keep up fighting with desperation in the Shanhaikwan sector.

Meanwhile, some one brigade of the Fengtien troops is at present advancing towards Pingshanling, while other Fengtien forces, some 19,000 strong, under the command of General Chang Tsung-chang, are fast coming down southward by way of Taolinkou with the object, it is reported, of attacking Luanchow, which is the most important strategical point on the line between Shanhaikwan and Tientsin.

In view of the grave situation that has been engendered by the return to Peking of General Feng Yu-hsiang's troops and taking the general war situation at the fronts, it is inferred that the Fengtien-Chihli war will not be prolonged as was at first expected.

ARMED ROBBERS RAID SILK SHOP; TAKE $470 LOOT

Supposed Customer Turns Out To Be Member Of Bandit Gang

Four armed robbers, who staged a carefully planned raid on a silk shop at 147 Fokien Road Thursday evening escaped with silks and cash to the value of $470, according to a report filed with the police of the Louza station.

One of the men entered the shop at about 8:15 o'clock in the guise of a customer. He asked to be shown some silks, and in the course of the next hour selected silks totalling $418 in value, which he asked to have wrapped up. When the parcel was ready for him, he produced a revolver and warned the shop assistants not to make any outcry.

Simultaneously, three other men, two of whom carried revolvers, appeared at the front door of the shop. The man who had selected the silks moved to the front door as a guard, while the other three picked up the parcel and then ransacked the cashier's till, taking $42 and 60 twenty-cent pieces. Then all four men ran out in the street and escaped by running north to Hankow Road.

FENG YU-HSIANG HOLDING CAPITAL; IMMEDIATE END OF HOSTILITIES ORDERED

Cabinet Ministers Are Arrested As "Christian General" And Cohorts Spring Peace Move; Chang Tso-lin Approves Plan For Round-Table Conference As Chihli Forces Are Hemmed In On All Sides

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 23.—(delayed). General Feng Yu-hsiang completely controls the capital.

He has issued a proclamation denouncing the war, which "is ruining China," and has called a conference of Government officials and others with a view to ending hostilities.

The proclamation appeals to the people to preserve order and protect foreigners. Meanwhile General Feng's troops are garrisoning Peking.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 23.—The Peking public slept peacefully last night not suspecting the coup d'etat which was carried out during the night secretly and quietly and with dramatic suddenness.

A group of Generals having decided to bring hostilities to an end recently arranged for General Feng Yu-hsiang to return to Peking to take command there while the others would take measures necessary to prevent Marshal Wu Pei-fu's return to the capital.

Accordingly General Feng's troops quitely left Kupeikou and reached the suburbs of Peking yesterday evening. Early this morning the Peking Garrison troops, consisting of the 15th Brigade under General Sun Yueh, opened the gates to allow the entry of General Feng's men, who immediately cut all communications and took charge of the official departments and the public utility services, after which the whole of General Feng's 11th Division were stationed in various quarters of the city. They surrounded the palace and arrested the Minister of Finance, Mr. Wang Keh-ming, and also General Li Yeh-ching, the Director of the Military Council attached to the Presidency.

SEEK TSAO JUI

General Feng's men also attempted to arrest the Ministers of Commerce and Communications and also General Tsao Jui, the President's brother, and two other officials, all of whom have up to the present not been discovered.

While most of the Cabinet Ministers are not concerned in the plot, a group of prominent young Chinese, including the Minister of Education, Mr. Huang Fu, and Dr. C. T. Wang, took part inside Peking and are now endeavoring actively to carry out measures necessary to restore normal conditions as soon as possible.

This group asserts that they are determined to bring hostilities to an end, after which they intend to call a round table conference to which they will invite Marshal Chang Tso lin, Dr. Sun Yat-sen and other leaders, with the object of instituting sound Government and of reunifying China. They hint that a foreign loan will be necessary.

Dr. C. T. Wang asserts that Marshal Chang is ready to comply with their wishes.

PALACE SURROUNDED

The Palace is surrounded. The streets leading to it are held by General Feng's men, but Dr. C. T. Wang asserts that it is not likely that President Tsao Kun's life will be endangered.

Troops from Shantung are en route to Langfang, between Peking and Tientsin, with the object of preventing Marshal Wu's return, which shows the widespread character of the plot.

A circular telegram issued in the names of General Feng Yu-hsiang, General Hu Ching-yi, Commandant of the Shensi force, and General Sun Yueh, Commandant of the 15th Brigade, and others says:

"It is shameful! Is the Army maintained in order to promote internal strife instead of safeguarding the nation? Since 1911, there has been much unjustifiable warfare in China. If the Government authorities had consiences they would advocate peace but on the contrary since the outbreak in Kiangsu the whole National Army has been mobilised and thousands of lives expended, but for what do we fight? Who is the ringleader? None can answer this question. In 1924 drought and floods visited the country. We should be relieving the people instead of fighting..... We intend to organise a National Army which will be devoted to the welfare of the people. Intelligent classes in all parts of the country should make efforts with a view to reformation."

This afternoon the telegraphs, trains, etc., are resuming.

The city remains quiet. The Government is nominally carrying on.

CHANG OFFERS REWARD

(Eastern News Agency)

Mukden, October 23.—It is reported in Chinese official circles here that the first step taken by Christian General Feng Yu-hsiang upon his entry into Peking was to press President Tsao Kun to deprive Marshal Wu Pei-fu of his post and then to drive President Tsao out of the capital. Marshal Chang Tsao-lin has published an announcement that a prize of $400,000 will be awarded to any one who captures Marshal Wu Pei-fu.

Official reports from the headquarters of the Fengtien troops at the fronts to the General Headquarters here state that General Feng Yu-hsiang, Commander-in-Chief of the 2nd Chihli Army; General Wang Kuai-ching, Commander-in-Chief of the 3rd Chihli Army; General Mei Chen-piao, Pacification Commissioner of Linsi, Jehol; and General Hu Shing-i, Commander of the 1st Shensi Division, have all sent their representatives to the Feng-

Hsiao Seeks Post For Hupeh Leader

(Eastern News Agency)

Hankow, Oct. 23.—General Hsiao Yao-nan, Inspector-General of Hupeh and Hunan, today wired to President Tsao Kun and Marshal Wu Pei-fu, recommending to them Brigadier-General Chang Ying-ming, Commander of the 5th Mixed Brigade of the Hupeh troops, who entered Shanghai and occupied the Kiangnan Arsenal following the flight of General Lu Yung-hsiang and General Ho Feng-lin, to the post of either Vice Defence Commissioner of Shanghai and Sungkiang or Pacification Commissioner of Hsuchow, Kiangsu Province.

(Eastern News Agency)

Tientsin, Oct. 24.—All the Chihli troops which have so far made a strong resistance against the furious attack by the Fengtien forces in the Shanhaikwan sector, last night gave up that sector and retreated to Chinwangtao. Foreign reports from Shanhaikwan state that Marshal Wu contemplates taking to flight to Shantung by sea and establishing his base of operations in the vicinity of Tehchow on the Tientsin-Pukow line.

(Eastern News Agency)

Tientsin, Oct. 24.—According to one of the most influential members of Marshal Tuan Chi-jui's faction, two brigades of Gen. Feng Yu-hsiang's troops and two brigades of General Hu Ching-i's forces have a plan to capture Tientsin and Tangshan, respectively, in order that Marshal Wu Pei-fu's retreat may be cut off.

Those military leaders, who have risen in arms in concert with General Feng Yu-hsiang, are Generals Wang Cheng-ping, Wang Huai-ching, Hu Ching-i, Sun Yo, and Mei Chen-piao. It appears that they intend to impose the whole responsibility in connection with the situation upon Marshal Wu Pei-fu.

(Eastern News Agency)

Tientsin, Oct. 24.—General Feng Yu-hsiang's troops, which entered Peking by 9 a.m. yesterday, are the 8th Mixed Brigade, the 41st Regiment, the 43rd Regiment, one artillery regiment and one machine-gun section attached to the 11th Division under the direct command of General Feng Yu-hsiang. These troops have already completely occupied all the gates, every station and the telegraphic and telephones offices in the capital. At the West station, eight big-guns and several machine-guns have been arranged by General Feng's troops.

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, Oct. 24.—Upon receipt of the news that General Feng Yu-hsiang's troops commenced advancing southward from Kupeikou and were pressing on the capital, President Tsao Kun, on the night of the 22nd, convened an emergency meeting of the Cabinet Ministers and discussed as to countermeasures but they failed to arrive at any definite conclusion. President Tsao is alleged to have requested General Lu Chin, Minister of War and concurrently Chief of the Military Department of the Presidency, and Dr. Wellington Koo, Minister for Foreign Affairs, to approach all the foreign legations here for the accommodation of shelter to him but both General Lu and Dr. Koo have declined to comply with his request. Meanwhile, the Chief of the Metropolitan Police and the Director of the Metropolitan Gendarmerie have declared that they would not hold themselves responsible for anything else excepting the maintenance of peace and order in Peking. Besides, owing to the fact that late on the night of the 22nd, the vanguards of General Feng's troops entered the capital and immediately proceeded to surround the President's Office, President Tsao began to realise that he was at his wit's end. General Feng Yu-hsiang today officially announced that in the event of the president agreeing to the suspension of hostilities and to his retirement from the Presidency, he would be allowed to take refuge safely.

Mr. Li Yen-ching, Accountant-General of the Presidency, and Mr. Wang Ku-ming, Minister of Finance, have been arrested and taken into custody.

(Eastern News Agency)

Tientsin, Oct. 24.—Judging from all available reports, it appears that the Chihli troops, which had retreated to Chinwangtao from the Shanhaikwan sector, last night got on board the Chinese men-of-war and transport-vessels in that port.

General Hu Ching-i has given orders to his troops at the fighting front to proceed to Kaiping for the purpose, it is inferred, of cutting off the retreat of Marshal Wu Pei-fu.

According to those who are in close contact with Marshal Tuan Chi-jui, Marshal Tuan wants to refrain from reckless actions at this juncture, having an intention to come out of his retirement when he is unanimously requested to do so by all provinces.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 24.—The remainder of General Feng Yu-hsiang's troops have reached Peking, also 5,000 of General Hu Chung-yi's forces, giving General Feng a total command of upwards of 40,000 men.

Perfect order has been maintained up to the present. Not a since shot was fired either during or after the coup.

It is noteworthy that General Feng's proclamations have not mentioned several leaders who are reported as participating in his movement.

A further proclamation issued this morning by General Feng concludes by saying that he must request the President to issue a mandate ordering the cessation of hostilities.

The Presidential bodyguard consisting of 3,000 troops was disarmed yesterday afternoon.

While there are numerous rumors in circulation regarding this, there is reason to believe that President Tsao Kun is still in the Presidential Mansion.

No further arrests are reported. The Cabinet is nominally carrying on under Premier Yen, to whom General Feng apparently looks for the avoidance of any interruption of Government business.

The interruption of communications has left Peking entirely in the dark regarding Marshal Wu Pei-fu.

It is reported semi-officially that some Fengtien leaders are carrying out a similar coup in Mukden, but it is impossible to confirm this.

(Special to The China Press)

Peking, October 23.—Leaving Jehol three days ago, General Feng Yu-hsiang has peacefully occupied Peking this morning with eight brigades, the remainder of his troops being stationed at Tientsin and Tongshan.

The Civil, Governor, Wang Chen-ping, is thirty li from Peking, and Wang Hua-ching is just behind him.

General Feng Yu-hsiang has issued a proclamation and circular declaring his intention to stop the fighting in the North and relieve the country of useless war at this time. The proclamation declares that the people are already suffering from drought and flood and that the present warfare is needless.

Reports in circulation here say that Feng Yu-hsiang has returned to Peking to ask the President and Premier Yen to issue a mandate calling a conference to settle political differences.

Peking is very quite and the legations are satisfied with General Feng's acceptance of responsibility for their protection.

(Nihon Dempo)

Peking, Oct. 24.—The troops of General Feng Yu-hsiang that entered Peking during the 23rd were the 8th mixed brigade, the 41st and the 43rd regiments of the 11th Division, an artillery regiment, and a battalion of machine-gunners. All gates of Peking, railway stations, and telegraph and telephone offices were entirely captured by them. At the West railway station eight guns have been placed.

On the receipt of the news of the approach of General Feng's army to Peking on the evening of the 22nd, President Tsao Kun immediately called an emergency cabinet meeting. The President proposed to General Lu Chin, minister of war, and Dr. Wellington Koo, minister of foreign affairs, to take refuge in the Legation quarter, but Gen. Lu did not support it. Both chiefs of Metropolitan Police and Gendermerie said that they were unable to do anything beyond the maintainance of peace and order within in the capital. While no decision was reached, the advanced party of the 8th mixed brigade entered Peking and quickly surrounded the Presidential Palace.

General Feng today made it known to the President that he had no intention to offer any harm to the President, but the latter is required to stop the war immediately and resign his office at the same time.

Mr. Li Yen-ching, accountant-general of the Presidential Office and Mr. Wang Keh-ming, Minister of Finance were arrested today.

Fukien And Kiangsu Leaders Make Recommendations For Appointments

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 15.—Admiral Tu Hsi-kuei, Commander-in-Chief of the Naval forces of the punitive expedition, started for Chinwangtao yesterday. Prior to his departure from Peking Admiral Tu was entertained at dinner by the President. Admiral Li Ting-hsin, Minister of the Navy, was also present.

Admiral Li Ching-yi, Commander of the Second Naval Squadron, has reported the departure of the gunboat Chutung for the North from Hankow, and it is generally believed that as the result of Admiral Tu's visit to Peking the Chinese warships lying at various centers along the Southern coast will be made use of in the Northern campaign.

According to unofficial Chinese reports Marshal Chi Hsieh-yuan will retain the post of Military Commissioner for Shanghai and Woosung until the Government has decided whether to appoint a permanent officer to that post or whether changes will be made in accordance with recent recommendations. In the event of the post being continued it is expected that General Chen Tiao-yuan will get it.

General Meng Chao-yu, follower of Marshal Sun Chuan-fang, is mentioned as Military Commissioner for Ningpo and Taichow, while General Lu Hsiang-ting will probably be appointed Garrison Commandant at Ningpo, and General Pai Pao-shan (Kiangsu) Military Commissioner at Kiating.

Marshal Chi has recommended General Kung Pang-to as Commandant of the 6th Division, and General Chin Yung-ao as Military Commissioner at Hsuchowfu.

Shanghai American School Notes

Last Friday twenty-five students from the Great China University visited our classes. We were very glad to welcome them.

Mrs. H. A. Wilbur, who is well-known as an art critic and lecturer, gave us a most enlightening sketch of Chinese art, beginning with the Chow period through to the Sung. The talk was illustrated by lantern slides which effectively supplemented the word pictures describing the beautiful bits of bronze, porcelain, and examples of painting, sculpture and architecture. Among the many interesting things mentioned about the early culture of the Chinese, was that football was played here before Julius Caesar conquered England, and that polo was a favorite game as early as the seventh century.

Saturday, October 18, the second movie of this school year, called "The Third Alarm", was given in the School Assembly Hall. When the name was announced all expected a thrilling story of fire and they were not disappointed. The audible comments of the younger portion of the audience testified to their appreciation of the performance. Saturday, Oct. 25, a Campfire party is to be held and all are looking forward to an enjoyable evening.

Monday, Navy Day, around the world, will be observed by a program at assembly, when an officer will speak of "The Navy's Mission in Peace." In the afternoon the student body will be the guests of the officers and sailors on the ships in the harbor.

Cures 11,000 Cases of Eye Disease.

Eleven thousand wards of the Near East Relief orphanages have had their sight saved by Dr. Russell T. Uhls, eye specialist of Kansas City, Mo., who has cured that number of the dreaded trachoma during four years' service in the Near East. He traveled more than 10,000 miles in Turkestan, Persia and Central Asia, and as far as the Chinese border, to make a survey of eye conditions. He found that 40 per cent of the natives suffered from the disease, which has become a world menace.

WILL OBSERVE NAVY DAY ON OCTOBER 27

Plans Being Formulated To Hold Exercises And Entertainments

Monday, October 27, has been designated by the President of the United States as "Navy Day."

Navy Day is the one day in the year on which the Navy afloat and ashore is "at home" to the people of the United States.

Plans are now being made for the proper observance of Navy Day and will comprise a possible Proclamation on the value of the Navy in time of peace to our citizens abroad and the protection of their lives, property, and commerce. Also, a full day of exercises, such as open house and entertainment on every United States man-of-war in Shanghai and special athletic carnivals ashore.

It is hoped that all representative Americans ashore will take an active interest in Navy Day and co-operate with the chairman of the Navy Day Committee, Commander of the Destroyer Squadron on the U. S. S. Black Hawk, now anchored in the harbor, principally to see that all Americans and their children are notified that every American man-of-war in the harbor will be open to receive them as special guests on that day from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., and such a visit will be well worth while for all sorts of interesting exhibits will be prepared and operations of the battery, the propelling systems, and life on board a man-of-war will be explained.

EXCELLENT WORK OF LOCAL DEFENSE FORCES PRAISED

Col. Gordon Issues Special Orders To All Units; Loyal Co-Operation

Following the special order of the day which was published yesterday, Col. Gordon, commanding the Shanghai Defence Forces, issued a second special order recording his appreciation and thanks to all units of these forces during the forty-five days they have been assembled in defence of the Settlement. Their work, says the Commandant, "ensured the safety of the lives and property of the Foreign Community, at the same time contributing in no small measure to the maintenance of order in the Chinese territory. . . . To command them has not only been a great honor but . . . a pleasant experience."

The second order is as follows:

SHANGHAI DEFENCE FORCES
Special Order Of The Day

The "Period of Emergency" having passed, I desire to record my appreciation and thanks to the Units comprising the Shanghai Defence Forces for the good work performed by them during the forty-five days that they have been assembled in defence of the integrity of the Foreign Settlement. The loyal co-operation between Units, the unselfish performance of irksome duties, by all ranks, and the discipline and keenness displayed by them, ensured the safety of the lives and property of the Foreign Community, at the same time contributing in no small measure to the maintenance of order in the Chinese territory.

To command them has not only been a great honor, but has been made a pleasant experience as well.

I wish all ranks good luck in the future.

Wedding

HARMON—BROWNELL

Miss Betty Brownell, who came to Shanghai some months ago as the advance representative of Ruth Roland, American motion picture star, became the bride of Mr. Lloyd ("Pete") Frost Harmon, soloist and saxophonist at the Carlton Cafe, at a ceremony performed yesterday afternoon at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Drury.

Miss Brownell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Jones of San Jose, California. Mr. Harmon's parents are Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Harmon, of Long Beach, California.

The bride was given away by Mr. Louis Ladow. Her attendants were Mrs. Reg. Lenzen and Mrs. Freddy Lazarus, matrons of honor. Reg. Lenzen and Freddy Lazarus attended the groom, and Miss Ruth Case and Master Carley Case were flower girl and page, respectively.

The Bride's gown was a grey georgette over coral crepe satin, with pleated panels and deep berths of pleated georgette. She wore slippers of coral and silver brocade, and a poke bonnet of shirred coral and grey, with a pink rose on either side. Her bouquet was an old fashioned posy, with streamers.

Mrs. Lenzen and Mrs. Lazarus wore gowns of white satin.

Following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served in a private dining room at the Carlton, the guests being the same as those who had attended the wedding dinner given for Mr. and Mrs. Lenzen in the same room, on which occasion the bride and groom first met. The wedding cake, a wonderful confection, was specially prepared by the chef at the Carlton.

Mr. and Mrs. Harmon will be at home to their friends at 61 San Souci Terrace.

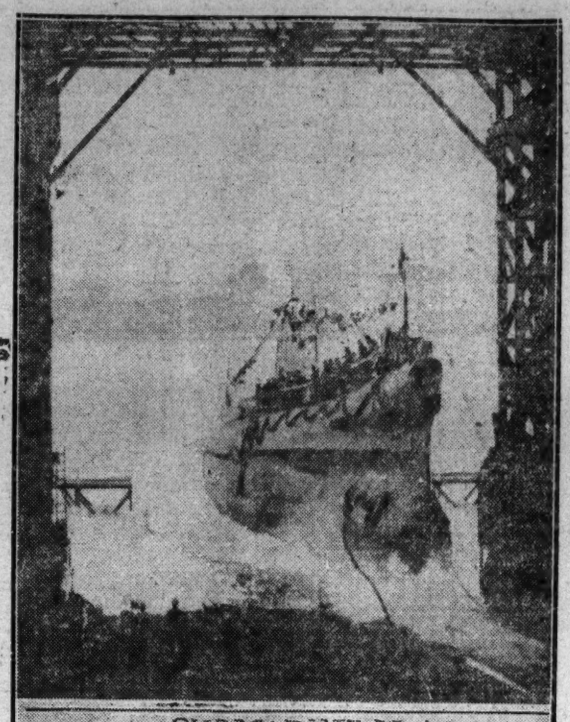
GREATEST SUBMARINE LAUNCHED AT PORTSMOUTH.



A submarine twice as large as any ever built in the United States, and believed to be the greatest in the world, has been launched at the Portsmouth, N. H., Navy Yard. The V-1, first of a fleet of nine, will be able to accompany the battle fleet to sea, in any weather and at any speed of which the fleet is capable. She could cross the Atlantic and return without refueling. The V-1 is 341 feet long, has a surface speed of 21 knots and moves 9 knots underwater. She carries 7 officers and 80 enlisted men.

British Civil Aviation Is Reviewed In Report

The annual report on the progress of civil aviation for the year ending March 31 last was published recently by the Directorate of Civil Aviation in England.

Reviewing the progress of relations with foreign countries in respect to air navigation, General Brancker notes that air traffic agreements have been entered into with Denmark, Norway, Sweden and Switzerland, and that with Holland only awaits ratification. The temporary agreement with Czecho-Slovakia expired at the end of March last, and owing to Germany's attitude with regard to flight over German territory it has not been found practicable to renew it.

With regard to services to German stations permission has been granted by Germany on a reciprocal basis, generally for periods of three months at a time, enabling the operation of British air services to Cologne and Berlin. It has not been possible, except on the basis of a special and temporary authorisation, to arrange for flight by British aircraft to and over German territory as an Anglo-German air agreement is impossible until either Germany signifies her adherence to the International Air Convention or until the protocol of amendment to Article 5 has been ratified by all the States which are parties to the Convention.

CO-OPERATION NEEDED

With regard to the need of close international co-operation in air transport, it is pointed out that, apart from the continuous efforts of the International Commission for Air Navigation to improve upon and standardise the Government organisation for air transport, the past year has seen the setting up of combinations of air transport companies for the purpose of operating joint services with a uniform type of aircraft, and a uniform traffic and operational system. Thus, the Danish, Netherlands and German companies interested in the route between Rotterdam, Hamburg and Copenhagen have organised the service on a uniform basis, and in Germany the Junkers Company has brought together into two unions the various companies using Junkers machines that operate respectively the routes from Geneva to Budapest and from Konigsberg to Finland.

The future of air transport, General Brancker opines, may be expected to incline more and more to international management of air lines, and accordingly to the formation of stronger bonds in international relations.

IRISH SERVICE SUCCESSFUL

Reference is made to the success of the Irish mail service experiment, and a tribute paid to the enthusiasm and cordial co-operation of the Lord Mayor and other city officers of Plymouth and Belfast. Following this experimental service negotiations with the city authorities and the chambers of commerce of Belfast and Manchester have been opened by a private concern for a daily service between these two towns. Belfast has declared its intention of providing a municipal aerodrome if the service matures.

Twenty-six accidents occurred during the year to registered British aircraft. Six resulted in loss of life, but only one involved passengers, the other five having occurred during "solo" flights.

Statistics of civil flying show that during the past year the total air transport flying amounted to 1,004,000 miles flown in 5,012 flights, as against 778,000 miles in 4,000 flights in the previous year. Passengers carried in the course of these flights numbered 15,013, as against 11,460 in the previous year. Goods totalled 427 tons as against 216 tons.

British companies received a still larger proportion of the total passenger traffic on the cross-Channel aeroplane routes; the British share during the past year was 79 per cent. as compared to 76 per cent. in the previous year. Imports and exports by air during the year reached a value of £883,233, bringing the total from August, 1919, up to £3,419,242.

As an indication of efficiency of British air transport, it is shown that at present the average efficiency of the British services is about 91 per cent. in the summer months, 82 per cent. in the winter months, and 88 per cent. for the whole year.

TERRIBLE HUNGER AND DISTRESS ON BOARD MONGUGAI

Serious Condition Of Cossack Refugees At Woosung Shown By Report

The Repatriation Sub-Committee of the Refugee Relief Advisory Committee yesterday reported on a trip made to the S.S. "Mongugai", one of the Russian ships which has been lying here in Shanghai over a year, to investigate the condition of the Cossacks on this vessel, regarding whom most harrowing stories were being told.

The investigators found conditions as terrible as could be imagined. There were 110 Cossacks on this ship, filthy, verminous, ragged, and half-starved. Their present food is bread and potatoes, received from local donations. They have not had meat for three months. They drink river water, boiled. There is fuel enough to permit of preparing their bread, which they bake themselves, cooking potatoes, and boiling their weak tea and water, but none whatever for heating. There is no soap, no scrubbing brushes, no possibility of exterminating the vermin which swarm over the men, over their bunks, and over every place they touch.

These poor creatures, brought here by officers whom they obeyed and trusted, are now in the last extremity of distress. With the cold weather setting in, they have literally nothing to cover them but miserable rags. Their shoes are pitiful remnants held together with string, and their bed-clothing the remains of blankets which are now but shreds and tatters. Most of them live in the cargo holds, where it is almost pitch dark and it is possible to find one's way only by groping. They have no lights of any kind.

The present plan is to send these men to Hailar, on the Russian border of Manchuria. Many of them, for one reason or another, are afraid to face the present Russian authorities openly, though it is quite possible for the common soldiers (a distinction is made between officers and soldiers in this respect) to get passports and return to their native land. From Hailar, however, very close to Russia, it is possible for the men to cross the border by foot. It is said to be possible, however, to make a living in Hailar, which is a big grazing community populated by Cossacks, and many will undoubtedly be glad to settle there.

In the meantime, however, the men are seriously in need of assistance. Preparations are now being made, it is understood, to send a batch of 150 Cossacks, including others besides the "Mongugai" crew, to Hailar, but funds are being appealed for to purchase clothing and food for these men in the interim. The "Mongugai" men's condition appears to be the most desperate of any.

The rate of 24 cents per unit of electricity is said to be too high and the recently concluded agreement whereby the Peking Tram Car Co. gets a six-cent rate is cited. Use of dangerous non-insulated electric wires is also denounced.

The Mukden Arsenal has been working at the highest pressure since hostilities opened, turning out guns, rifles, ammunition, etc. It is capable of making dozens of rifles, about 12,000 rounds of rifle ammunition, a few hundred shells a day, and over 20 field-guns a month. The above manufacturing efficiency may be maintained right along, which point serves as a very strong one to the Mukdens.

In an Argentine paper recently appeared the impressive name of Don Juan Iturriberigorrigoicoerotaberricoechea. The New World has certainly done well, but the Old World can go one better. In Burma many years ago there lived a King with the pithy little name of Siritaribhaanadityapauarapanditasudhammarajamahadhipatisithu. Likewise, he varies his instruments in concert, according to his program and the fitness of the various violins at the moment.

ANNUAL MEET OF SHANGHAI FOOTBALL CLUB

Good Attendance; Memory Of Late Mr. Harris; Elections

The Annual General Meeting of the Shanghai Football Club, postponed from October 13 on account of the mobilisation on that date, was held at the Shanghai Rowing Club yesterday at 5:15. The Club is having its first matches this afternoon, both division teams participating. The Club looks forward with confidence to winning the League championship the coming season.

Mr. R. Grimshaw, Vice-President, presided at yesterday's meeting. After the reading of the notice by the Secretary convening the meeting all the members stood up in respect to the memory of the late Mr. C. F. Harris, while Mr. Grimshaw spoke extending condolences to the relatives of the deceased.

The report and accounts for the past year were presented. Mr. Grimshaw moved, Mr. Coulcher seconding, that they be adopted. Motion passed.

Mr. Grimshaw proposed Mr. Sidney Barton's re-election as President. Mr. Stewart seconded. The motion passed.

Sir Edward Pearce was nominated for Vice-President, and elected. Mr. Grimshaw was also nominated and elected.

Mr. Gabbott was proposed for Hon. Secretary and Treasurer, and elected. Mr. L. Goldman was elected Assistant Secretary.

The Committee was then elected, consisting of Messrs. Leslie, Barne, Dailey, Clifford, and Harris. L. Goldman was elected captain of the first team, with Mr. Coulcher Vice-Captain, while J. E. R. Harris was elected captain of the second eleven.

The special members of the Balloting Committee, which also includes the members of the General Committee, were re-elected, Messrs. Forshaw and Weeks.

There was some discussion on several matters at the close of the elections. A proposed ruling with reference to membership was dealt with, as well as some other Club matters.

Before adjournment the meeting voted its thanks to the Rowing Club for the hall, and also to the Chairman for his services.

Lawn Tennis

The final round of the Ladies' Singles Championship here will be played at the Country Club this afternoon at 3. Mrs. Pearson and Mrs. Van Haute being the competitors. It should be an excellent match.

Mrs. Pearson has held the championship here several times, though she failed to achieve it last year. Mrs. Van Haute has played well during the present tournament, and a worth-while match may be expected. All parties interested in tennis are invited to attend.

FRENCH CLUB TOURNAMENT

Today is the last day for entries for the Open Tournament to be held on the French Club's grounds starting the beginning of next month. The limit was originally set for Wednesday last, but owing to the unsettled conditions, and the mobilisation of many men who had little opportunity to make their entry for the competition, the date was extended to today.

Some of the best Shanghai tennis players have entered in this tournament, which includes both singles and doubles, men, women, and mixed.

INTERCOLLEGIATE TENNIS

St. John's Tennis Team will play the Tennis Team of Shanghai College at that College at 1:30 p.m. Last Saturday Shanghai College won over Futan, and the winner of today's match will play the winner of the tournament that is being played today in Nanking, viz: Soochow University, Southeastern University, and University of Nanking.

The two teams playing this afternoon at Shanghai College are probably the strongest teams in the E.C.C.I.A. Shanghai College won the E.C.C.I.A. Tennis Championship title for 1923 and also for 1921. The teams are probably about evenly matched, and there ought to be some interesting tennis for the spectators.

The Shanghai Rugby Football Club held its Annual General Meeting at the Shanghai Rowing Club at about 6 p.m. yesterday. There was a large attendance, and very keen interest shown, indicating excellent prospects for the coming season. Presenting the report and accounts, he called attention to the excellent financial position of the Club, with a balance of M.$527.52 on hand. The League games, as well as the Interport matches, had been very successful.

President Burkill expressed regret that Mr. McMeckan, Captain, was leaving, and thanked him for his fine work and hoped his absence would be only for a short time.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Mr. McMeekin moved that Mr. Burkill be re-elected President for the coming year. Capt. Barrett seconded, and the motion was carried by acclamation.

Mr. Burkill moved that the present Vice-Presidents be re-elected Mr. Goolden seconded this. The motion was carried.

In connection with the captaincy Mr. McMeekin, withdrawing, thanked the members of the Club for their whole-hearted support during the last two years, which he appreciated to the full. He proposed Mr. Holdworth as his successor, Mr. Harver seconding. The motion carried, Mr. Holdsworth becoming the new Captain.

Mr. Godfrey, Hon. Treas., and Mr. Webb, Hon. Sec., were prepared to carry on for the coming year.

Election for the Vice-Captain, and for Committee members was by ballot. Mr. W. H. Smith was elected Vice-Captain, and Messrs. Ornston, Webber, and Evans members of the Committee.

This part of the business being concluded, invitations were read from Hankow and Tientsin to visit these points for games. It was reported that the Navy will send a team up here in January from Hongkong.

The first game this season will not take place until after Nov. 8, owing to the races.

At the conclusion of the meeting a vote of thinks was extended to the outgoing Committee for their excellent work.

Commercial Guilds In Canton Impeach Dr. Sun

The United Commercial Guild of Kwangtung Province, with office at Canton, in its public statement issued on October 10, explaining the causes leading the merchants of the province to suspend their trade as a protest against further maladministration of the Kuomingtang Government of Dr. Sun Yat-sen, now controlled by Bolshevists, stated, in part, as follows:

"Dr. Sun Yat-sen, assuming the role of a leader of his party and head of a goverment, irregularly constituted and unsupported by true public sentiment, has been inconsistent all these years in his views and acts. While in Canton, he has advocated constitutionalism, the preservation of the National Assembly of the Republic, and for the maintenance of the Chinese Independent Navy. These have been done at the great expenses of the people of Kwangtung. Now constitutionalism has been discarded by him and the National Assembly and the Navy have now deserted him. Once he denounced the militarists Chan Tso-lin and Tuan Chi-jui of the North and now he is allying with and being subsidized by them. Before the sound of his trumpet to disband troops had died away, he brought into Kwangtung vicious mercenaries who had failed in their own provinces, eight or nine in all. Discord, jealousy, petty strifes, intrigues, all followed Dr. Sun's inability to utilize, feed, or control the large herd of politicians, communists, and soldiers of fortune he had imported from non-Cantonese territories for his selfish ambition against the desire of the local populace.

WRONGED LIVING AND DEAD

"Dr. Sun Yat-Sen has not only wronged the living, but also the divine and the dead during his sojourn in Kwangtung. By his cruel pressing of men into involuntary servitude, confiscating and selling the homes of the helpless class of the community, and by allowing his mercenaries to raise their own means of subsistence and thus creating a reign of terror and increasing the number of destructive taxes in Kwangtung, Dr. Sun has willingly interferred with the right of the people to life, liberty, property, and the pursuit of happiness. By destroying temples and ruining institutions of art and history and the removal of valuable monuments and shrines in order to produce funds for his war chest, Dr. Sun has not only offended the spirit of those responsible for the honoured, ancient achievements but the Divine above. By his order to dispose of all public cemeteries and exhume the millions of remains lying low but inoffensive, Dr. Sun has brought anger not only to the living but also to the dead.

SQUANDERED MILLIONS

"In the last twelve months, Dr. Sun Yat-sen has squandered more than $100,000,000 of Kwangtung money and achieved nothing, but only made several of his parasites millionaries. His own subordinate, ex-Governor Liao Chung-hoi of Canton, indicted him by figuring that granted that Dr. Sun has 80,000 mercenaries, he should not waste more than $15,000,000 a year.

"Dr. Sun Yat-sen has done nothing since his return to Canton but given promises which he never thinks of keeping.

"While preaching democracy, he has dismembered organization for self-government and self-defence, confiscated arms which people legally purchased for their own protection, and ordered the arrest of leaders laboring for public welfare and common defence. Without reason and without cause, Dr. Sun Yat-sen ordered the gunboat "Yung Fung" to bombard defenceless Canton during the period when 138 towns and cities throughout Kwangtung went on strike to protest against his lawlessness, August 25-30, he going as far as to prepare 300 cans of kerosene oil to burn the business section of Canton.

BOLSHEVISM INTRODUCED

"Dr. Sun Yat-sen has disregarded the will of the people by introducing Bolshevism into practice in Kwangtung and promoted party and sectional interest at the expenses of the people of the province.

While not disapproving party principles if they are helpful and party government when necessary to bring about efficient government, we believe that it should exist to serve the community only and that it should withdraw from active government when no longer enjoying the confidence of the people.

"We lay aside our business and regular occupation in order to effectively call the attention of those who have failed to give the people satisfaction. "We are working for the removal of all destructive taxation, the right to arm ourselves for self-protection under lawful regulations, and against any political or economic party seeking to put its principles into practice in Kwangtung without first getting the approval and consent of the majority of the people of Kwangtung.

"Bolshevism has failed to receive the support of the people of Kwangtung and will be opposed by us with all our strength and resources."

Wanhsien Now Peaceful; Robber Bands Keep Away

(Special Correspondence)

Wanhsien, Szechuen Province, Oct. 12.—In this section of Szechuen, everything is now peaceful. There are bands of robbers operating along the river above Chungchow, but none have ventured closer to this military stronghold. There have been soldiers coming and going at all times yet it may be that these troop-movements were the strategic moves on the Szechwan military chessboard which checkmated the designs of Yang Sen's many enemies and have kept the province outwardly peaceful for the longest period in years. A large part of the Northern troops have departed for Hupeh and points East. One force proceeded to Shihnanfu, to guard the western border against possible attacks from Kweichow. Another force proceeded to Ichang to relieve troops slated for Shanghai. There are now no Northern troops in Chungking or above Wanhsien. General Lu Chin-shan still holds Wanhsien, with troops of the 18th Division, and apparently intends to stay here. The Kweichow troops in Chungking and vicinity, who have several times announced that they were about to return to their native province are still in Chungking, apparently finding that metropolis a more comfortable place than their own mountains. Now that Gen. Wu Pei-fu is occupied in Manchuria, the Kweichow expedition will no doubt await more propitious times.

Business is being carried on as usual. Throughout the summer woodoil has been shipped on foreign steamers without difficulty. There has been a good supply of wood-oil on the local market, but none too big a demand for it by the foreign firms. The price has dropped accordingly. Carlowitz Co. has lost the services of Mr. Steinle, its agent in this place for over ten years, as he has now taken over the management of the Arnhold Bros. business, in the place of Mr. Hawley, who was murdered by the junkmen last June. Mr. Kahle has joined Carlowitz Co., while Mr. Heiberger has taken over its management. The Babnson Co. is also reported to be sending a foreign agent to this place.

A variety of taxes, "voluntary contributions," and "protection bills" are being paid by the foreign business and shipping firms, but under protest, which they apparently expect to make more effective in the good time coming when China has a responsible government. It is understood that the firms concerned are keeping an account of the amounts paid out, with the intention of collecting again at some later date, and whether interest is being charged is not known. If the taxes foreigners are paying to the military along the river help to keep things peaceful, they really cannot complain, as business is better than it had been for a long time. The steamships are having all the cargo they can manage and freight rates are high.

CHUNGKING TRADE HANDICAPPED BY LIKIN STATIONS

Foreign Crafts Doing Big Tran portation Business, Relieving Situation

(China Press Correspondence)

Chungking, Oct. 10.—This autumn not a little alarm in some places arose because of the rumor that General Yang Sen and Teng Si-hou were likely to fight each other. General Yang was said to have left his former helpers and linked up with his one-time opponent, General Liu Yu-kiu, the ex-Civil Governor. But I am informed that there is no likelihood of any fresh struggle for power opening before the war in the east is finished. So we breathe freely again.

Today a reception was held here in honor of the establishment of the Republic. There was only a fair turnout. Few missionaries attended and not any business man. The most conspicuous person present was the ex-Military Governor Liu Tseng-hou. Compared to him Teng Si-hou looked like a scholar beside his teacher. The one was the embodiment of calm, dignified, sage experience; the other that of immature, restless nervousness. They are fine friends, I hear, and work well together. General Liu has the local reputation of being the most honest and straightforward general in the province.

Chatting with him, your correspondent learnt that he was opposed to continued depreciation of the copper currency by the minting of 100-cash pieces and 200-cash pieces. He said, too, that once peace came in the east, General Yuen Tsu-ming was likely to be sent back to Kueichow. Yuen is most unpopular here and the common people would rejoice to see him back. He is a Kweichowese and not a Szechuanese. Outside generals are not welcome in Szechuen.

Trade is still badly handicapped by the ever increasing number of likin and "squeeze" stations. Merchants declare that some foods are doubled in prices owing to this. Soldiers, militia and robbers all have their demands, and even in two days' journey as much as the worth of a cargo has to be paid in these unscrupulous exactions.

The only relief is to send goods up the Yangtze River by steamer. Foreign craft now run to Suifu. Eight or more small steamers are now on this route and making fine profits. They say that each makes a clear profit of $10,000 or more a month. Next year there will be 14 steamers on this run.

Yang Sen's adviser, Mr. J. R. Muir, is now in the city. He is arranging for the purchase of richshas for the new and wide street his boss is making at Chengtu. General Yang is nothing if he is not up to date. His energies are finding vent these days in widening the main streets of the capital.

Some of our Christian preachers have gone south to preach to General Chou Si-cheng's army on the Kweichow border. Chou heard of Feng Yu-hsiang's success in the north in raising the best army in China through leading them to adopt Christianity, and he wants to imitate him. So he sent for preachers. They have gone with a consignment of Scriptures from the American Bible Society, and we await patiently the result.

Our oldest missionary in Chungking is now Dr. J. H. McCarthy. This genial American seems as full of energy as ever. Lately his son, Dr. Lincoln McCarthy, has come out to join him. "He looks like a chip off the old block." If he only helps the good his father has done in Chungking and gets the credit for it, he will be a great man yet.

CHANGSHA PUTS THROUGH STREET WIDENING PLANS

City Now Boasts Of Several Highly Presentable Thoroughfares

(Special Correspondence)

Changsha, October 16.—In spite of many predictions of failure, the street-widening campaign in Changsha has been put through and the city now boasts of some very presentable business streets with first class buildings fronting on them. The work which began on Pa Kuo Ting has extended in all directions and one must watch his step to avoid falling bricks in almost every important thoroughfare of the city as the work goes on. Unfortunately no improvement in the paving has been made.

It is rumored that a seventy foot thoroughfare is about to be cut through the city from east to west between the Bund and the railway station. Although it would be a wonderful thing for the city, it seems rather unlikely that it will be carried out, but regardless of whether or not this improvement is made, the city already has gained a great deal.

The new store fronts which have sprung up along the widened streets have been lavishly decorated with gilt letters and large clocks. The coming of such a large number of clocks should stimulate the people to adopt and observe a single time standard, which they have as yet been very slow to do. At night the center of the city can be seen to be a blaze of light, much of which is new and is made up of flashing electric signs which are a never ending source of wonder to the Hunanese. The labor guilds concerned in these improvements have been overwhelmed with work, and the prices of labor have risen tremendously. Carpenters who were getting 40 cents per day a few months ago are now holding out for $1.00 per day and having little trouble getting it. The same is true of other guilds. In many ways Hunan shows its prosperity, not the least of which is the great increase of stores and stocks of foreign goods.

Communists Lose Norway Elections

(Reuter's Service)

Christiania, Oct. 23.—A reduction of the Moscow Communists in the Storting from fourteen to six is a striking result of the Norwegian parliamentary elections in which the Conservatives and Peasants' Party obtained a narrow majority in the Storting where they now dispose of 76 seats against 73 for the other parties.

Who Said Begg?

DECREE ISSUED BY SIANFU TO STOP POPPY GROWING

(Special Correspondence)

Sianfu, October 7.—In this land of poppy, more poppy and then more poppy, in this province where the military hold their heads up because poppy supports them, a decree has been issued that all poppy cultivation must be stopped. I trust readers of this paper in Shanghai who know of poppy as a black drug that comes from India, Kansu and Shensi could realize what it means where it is the life of the province and its death. The glory of the fields of white and purple, red and lavender, the curse of every beggar and rich man in the province,—gone. At least so says the proclamation.

On every billboard are these proclamations, through every county they go, each one signed and sealed by the military governor. The whole military force of the province that is under the control of the governor will be put into stamping out the curse. When the proclamations first came out no one paid much attention to them as they were thought to be a ruse of anti-opium-plant-more-opium kind. But the more one hears the more in earnest the movement seems. Inspectors have been appointed and sent out and a whole machine of law enforcement built up.

This move coming concurrently with the enlarging of the governor's sphere of influence to cover the north of the Wei River Valley and of the East to Tungkwan would seem to mean new life for this the richest part of the province. It is said that the move has been made possible by the withdrawal of the 20th Division of Chihli troops, who formerly occupied the Eastern part of the province, took their own levy of Likin, taxed coal mines and in general set up a little state of their own in Shensi. These have been called to fight in the north and the revenues that supported them will come now into the provincial treasury.

Of course this may turn out to be a ruse of the anti-opium bureau but those who know the governor, know the splendid group of younger civil officials that he is gathering around him and know his real interest in advancement can't help but have a great deal of hope that something real is happening just where Shensi needs it most.

British Production Of Cotton Exceeds All Expectations

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 23.—Lord Derby, presiding at a meeting of the Empire Cotton-growing Corporation, said that the development of cotton within the Empire during the past twelve months had exceeded all expectations.

Mr. Jackson, in seconding the motion, gave figures showing that Empire production had increased from an average of 64,000 bales in 1917-18 to 134,000 bales in 1921-22 and 200,000 bales in 1923-24.

Exchange Market

Messrs Maitland, Fearon & Brand state in their exchange circular for the week ending October 22: After minor fluctuations the price of bar silver in London @ 35 7-16d. spot and 35 5-16d. forward is ⅛d. down forward since this day last week, the spot price being unchanged. The official T-T rate on London has ranged between 3-5½d. and 3-4¾d., today's rate being 3-5d. which is about ⅜d. below the market. In regard to Imports and Exports very little business has been passing, the market consisting almost entirely of speculative operations in yen. It is estimated that the Chinese have covered about 2-3 of their oversold position in yen which at one time was said to be approximately Y. 30,000,000. The local situation is considerably easier now that the contending belligerent forces are no longer on the boundaries of the settlement, and it is hopd that the piece goods auctions may be started again next week, which should help to inspire confidence. The market closes steady with T-T on London offering @ 3-5⅜, T-T on New York 77⅞.

Our stocks of silver are reported as follows:—

Sycee and bar silver .... Tls. 53,719,000 an increase of Tls. 3,665,000.

Chinese and Mexican dollars .. $46,460.000 an increase of $240,000.

Silver yen. .....Yen. 800,000.

Estimate value Tls. 87.105,000 as against Tls. 52,667,000 held at this time last year.

Notice

I was on the 23rd. of September 1924 appointed by General Ho Feng Lin and Admiral Lin Kien Chang, Assistant Director of the Kiangnan Docks and during my tenure of office as such I always endeavoured to carry out my duty in preserving the property of the said Docks. U. S. UNDERSOLD BY JAPAN ON GRAY GOODS

Oriental Manufacturers Are Taking Trade In Near East And Elsewhere

Washington, Sept. 5.—An intensive selling campaign by Japanese manufacturers of cotton gray cloth has resulted in taking much business from American manufacturers in the Near East, in Egypt and in South America, according to advices today to the Department of Commerce. By the extensive use of Indian short staple cotton in preference to the long American staple and by selling at close margins the Japanese manufactures have been able to undersell both their British and American rivals.

Japan uses more Indian short staple than American cotton. Its consumption of raw cotton during the half year ended January 31, 1924, amounted to 1,174,000 bales, of which 822,000 bales of 400 pounds were Indian and 282,000 bales of 500 pounds each, were American. As a result of the methods now being employed to penetrate new markets, the Japanese are making rapid headway against American and British competition, and the use of large amounts of Indian cotton raw material in preference to the American product has a doubly felt effect upon American production.

The absolute discontinuance of Egyptian imports of heavy gray goods from the United States during the first four months of 1924, is explained by the extremely low prices quoted throughout the current year on Japanese gray sheetings for delivery exwarehouse Port Said. Combined with the low price the maintenance of spot stocks has given the Japanese control of the market and the Eastern Mediterranean and Red Sea regions, which are supplied mostly from Post Said.

Late reports however, indicate that Port Said stocks are extremely low, and even the present small withdrawals are in excess of current and contemplated arrivals. The fact that American gray sheetings are being quoted again in the Sudan at nominal prices practically in line with those of the Japanese would seem to indicate, according to the Department of Commerce exports, that American gray goods may regain some of the ground lost in these markets in the near future.

T.K.K. Bokuyo Maru Commissioned For S. American Run

We are advised by the Toyo Kisen Kaisha that the s.s. Bokuyo Maru has been commissioned for the South American run from Hongkong and Japan ports to Mexico, Panama, Peru, and Chile, and will replace the s.s. Seiyo Maru, sailing from Hongkong on December 8.

We give below particulars of this steamer, which is practically a sister ship of the s.s. Ginyo Maru:

Displacement tonnage	16,750 tons
Gross tonnage	8,603 tons
Length	445 feet
Breadth	58 feet

This steamer has first-class accommodation for 40 first-class passengers, 42 second, and 380 third-class.

It is emphasised that whilst the accommodation, food and service is particularly good, it must not be compared with the Company's North American liners, the Taiyo Maru, Tenyo Maru, Shinyo Maru, Siberia Maru and Korea Maru, and that while the South American liners have good solid comfort, the North American steamers, led by the Taiyo Maru, embody the very axiom of comfort and luxury, which has given this company the continued support of the travelling public.

It is pointed out that there is a difference between the two services in passage fares: on the North American line the first-class fare from Shanghai to San Francisco—a journey taking 22 days—is G.$346.00 (say Mex. $690); on the South American Line the fare from Kobe to Valparaiso, which takes about 70 days, the first-class fare is Yen 656.00 (say Mex. $460).

Yokohama Trade Leader Has Optimistic Outlook

Opinions diametrically opposed to those expressed by many other leading financiers in Tokio regarding the future of the country's financial condition were advanced by Mr. Takashi Isaka, president of the Yokohama Chamber of Commerce, in a recent statement on the financial situation. Unlike both Mr. Yoneyama, president of the Mitsui Trust Company, and Mr. Kajiwara, president of the Japan Hypothec Bank, he holds an optimistic view of the present financial position of the country, as well as its future economic prospect. Mr. Isaka says:

"Judged from every angle, Japanese financial circles are placed in the strongest position. Financial re-adjustment is making headway and in the stock market and trade circles wholesome development is observed. In Japan's export trade good development is being made in both commodities and in market sphere. A pessimistic forecast was entertained for the future of Japan's raw silk market last spring but with a gradual rehabilitation American circles demand for silk became active. Purchasing power in America was inflated and demand for silk kept coming to Japan. Last June, forward contract silk was quoted at less than Y1,500 but it has now revived to Y1,800. It bids fair to rise in price soon.

EXPENSIVE COCOON STOCK ON HAND

"The only thing that concerns us in the silk trade is that Japanese silk reelers laid in a stock of fairly high priced cocoons last summer. Another thing that must be taken into consideration is the recent active demand for Rayon in America. Unless the silk price goes up as high as Y2,000 in October and thereafter, Japanese silk reelers will lose considerably. Despite this, the export silk price is considered normal at Y1,700 or at the highest Y1,800 and the realisation of a Y2,000 price, if made, will be abnormal. On the whole, however, a high silk price here this autumn will not affect Japan's silk trade with America unfavorably."

Speaking of Rayon, Mr. Isaka, viewed as one of the foremost men in Japan on the silk situation there, stated that the activity of Rayon on the American market does not affect the country's raw silk trade with foreign countries. It encroaches upon the province of cotton cloth and wool much more than it does raw silk, and on the whole raw silk, which forms the chief product of Japan, is making favorable progress on the foreign market, he said.

Mr. Isaka is of the opinion that Japan is now on a fair way toward profitable financial rehabilitation, sounding a warning, however, to the public not to be led astray by the so-called "reconstruction boom," that will no doubt take place in industrial and business circles here in the future.

"Japanese economic circles are slowly progressing toward rehabilitation, supported by financial re-adjustment and trade activity, while prices are making a natural ascent," he said.

Regarding the money market, Mr. Isaka said, "business conditions in Tokio are progressing favorably as shown in the business report issued recently by the Bank of Japan and good results are being shown in the re-adjustment of "earthquake bills" and restriction in the general loan policy.

WATCH FOR BUSINESS BOOM

"This is not the ideal circulation of money but indeed may be inevitable during these changing conditions in the financial history of the country. Some financiers say that capital is not invested in enterprises but this is a mistake. So far as I can see quite an enormous amount of money has been invested in various large enterprises since the earthquakes. Generally speaking the country's financial circles are moving toward a steady development and rehabilitation. The thing we have to be careful about is the possible appearance of a business boom consequent to reconstruction enterprises. Unless people stand fast against this boom they will lose because many are liable to indulge in reckless speculation.

"The condition of imports during the first half next year will also be a matter of great importance in forecasting the financial prospect of Japan. The Japanese Government will pay more than Y.200,000,000 within the next few months in reconstructing the Capital and this will help labor and stores, resulting naturally in unusual activity in financial circles. If the public takes this situation into account, Japan will witness a remarkable rehabilitation economically; otherwise she will lose heavily."

Referring to the Dawes' Plan, Mr. Isaka pointed out that the economic rehabilitation of the European Continent following the operation of the plan will result in severe competition between England and America in supplying commodities to the Continent.

First Post-War Loan To Austrian Industry

'Newtag,' Holding A Government Electric Monopoly, To Get $3,000,000

Details of the first American loan to an industry of Austria since the war were announced recently. This is an issue of $3,000,000 6½ percent bonds of the Lower-Austrian Hydro-Electric Power Company, or "Newtag," to be sold in the New York market by a banking syndicate headed by F. J. Lisman & Co. and Morgan, Livermore & Co. members of the New York Stock Exchange. The bonds are offered at 85 and accrued interest, to yield over 8 percent. They mature in 1944 and are payable as to principal and interest in United Sates gold coin at the Metropolitan Trust Company.

"Newtag" maintains a Government monopoly for the furnishing of hydroelectrical power in the district of Lower Austria which it serves. The bonds were created to reimburse the company for its expenditure in the development of water power and are secured by a closed first mortgage on the entire property. The replacement value of the property is put at 2½ times the original cost. The investigation of the properties was made by James F. Case, consulting engineer.

Since the 7 percent League of Nations loan in the large markets of the world for the benefit of Austria, and the appointment of a representative of the League of Nations, Dr. Zimmerman, to take charge of her budgetary affairs, there has been a growing interest in the country in the American money market. The present loan is expected to be the first of a series to be offered in New York and in London on behalf of prominent Austrian and German industries, calculated to bring them back to their pre-war positions of prominence.

The issue is free from all Austrian taxes and is not callable except for the sinking fund, until 1934.

Special Electricity Exhibition Planned For Bandoeng, Java

A special Electricity Exhibition will be held at Bandoeng (Java) in connection with the 6th Netherland Indian Commercial Fair from June 20 to July 5, 1925.

In its preliminary announcement, the Committee emphasises the fact that the Netherland Indies in electrical matter are still far behind the West-European countries and America, though the islands abound with valuable natural power which may, to great advantage, be turned into sources of electrical energy. A start has been made in this direction and the exhibition is intended to assist the movement, in order to bring electricity within the reach of the numerous inhabitants of vast remote lands and to enable them to use electrical power in their homes and for industrial and agricultural urposes.

In addition to comprehensive sections for generating and distribution plants and for electrical appliances of every description, special prominence will be given to electrical traction, to low-voltage apparatus and to wireless telegraph and telephone installations.

DYE IMPORTS AT NEW YORK DWINDLE DOWN

August Total $65,000 Lower Than July; Textile Depression Responsible

Washington, September 4.—Imports of coal tar dyes through the port of New York fell by 76,000 pounds in quantity and $65,000 in value during August, according to a joint report issued by the Commerce Department and the Tariff Commission. August imports through the port amounted to 64,546 pounds, valued at $71, 290, as compared with 140,810 pounds at $137,075 during July.

In addition, August imports through other ports included 14,750 pounds with an invoice value of $14,521 for Providence, 1,000 pounds with an invoice value or $1,142 for Boston, and 100 pounds with an invoice value of $61 for Philadelphia.

The conspicuous drop in the August dye imports, according to the department, may be largely accounted for by two factors: The subnormal activity of the domestic textile industry and anticipation of the reduction in the ad valorem rate of duties on dyes from 60 per cent to 45 per cent on September 222, under the terms of the Tariff Act. The department described the situation with respect to warehouse stocks of dyes on July 1 as follows:

"The general imports (embracing imported articles entered for immediate consumption on arrival and articles entered for warehouse) of coal tar dyes for the first six months of 1924, amounted to 1,748,308 pounds, while the imports for consumption (embracing imports entered for immediate consumption and withdrawals from warehouse for consumption amounted to 1,583,677 pounds. The excess of the general imports over the imports for consumption is accordingly 164,632 pounds.

"Deducting 36,449 pounds, representing the re-exports of foreign coal tar dyes for the first six months of 1924, leaves a total of 128,182 pounds in the warehouse as of July 2, 1924, which may be withdrawn for consumption or for exportation. It may be expected that these dye stocks have been materially increased during July. The total stocks of coal tar intermediates on June 30, 1924, amounted to 1,196,75 pounds.

China Cotton

Messrs. A. B. Rosenfeld & Son, Inc., state in their report: Throughout this week the market displayed a steady tendency and prices moved within a comparatively narrow range, with the net result of a moderate advance from last week's level. The speculative element seem to regard the present level of prices as offering little inducement to operate on either side of the market, and are assuming a waiting attitude, requiring new developments in the general outlook as an incentive to fresh operations. The demand for spot cotton has been very good, the largest part of the demand coming from Japanese exporters.

On the whole, the outlook as it appears today does not seem to warrant the expectation of extreme fluctuations, and the probability, therefore, is for a continuance of rather narrow markets until the situation will shape itself in one way or the other in a more decided manner, and conservatism should, therefore, be the keynote of any operations entered into at the present time.

Yarn.—The market during the past week has been keeping steady. New business for export has been booked, some 4,000 to 5,000 bales in all counts at an advance of Tls. 1.00 to Tls. 1.50 compared with last week's level, and the market closed with a steady undertone.

SPUNT & CO.'S REPORT

Messrs. J. Spunt & Co.'s report states: Our market throughout the past week showed a firmer aspect in that prices moved gradually upward evolving on the whole an elevation of Tls. 1. per picul or near and about Tl. 0.60 per picul for forward deliveries higher than the level last current. This rising tendency may be said to be due to the very scanty receipts from the interior as well as to the gradual appreciation in Mid-Americans which is being engendered by favorable Liverpool markets and the creation of a bullish sentiment by the dissemination of private forecasts of lower crop figures in the U. S. A.

No marked improvement in the demand for the local staple on the part of spinners is as yet discernible, but no sooner conditions after the recent cessation of hostilities in the vicinity of Shanghai shall have become more stabilised, a more seasonable demand for mills' output may reasonably be expected, and having such in event in view, purchases at this time on a conservative basis may eventually prove profitable and particularly so if the tendency in foreign staples continues in a firm direction.

The Coup D'Etat In Peking

THE situation in China may be said to be almost kaleidoscopic. Looking back at the events of the past seven weeks, we can have no illusions as to the gravity of the situation through which we have passed, coupled with a feeling of intense relief that things were not worse, which they easily might have been. Through the fighting, there were the ever present possibilities of a flare-up which assuredly would have involved not only the whole of China but the whole world as well. Had Lu's troops been defeated in the field and driven into the Concessions, a clash between them and the foreign guards would have been almost certain, and fighting inside Shanghai itself would have involved all the nations who had sent naval forces ashore. From such a little seed there is no telling how great a tree of mischief might have grown. Nor is the danger over yet, nor will be till the various Chinese armies collected in the vicinity of this city have been removed from the district to a point sufficiently distant to render them innocuous. It does not say much for the wisdom of Wu Pei-fu that he risked a contingency like this on the eve of again trying conclusions with his old enemy, Chang Tso-lin.

Now, however, with dramatic suddenness, the center of attention has shifted from Shanghai to Peking, where the return of General Feng Yu-hsiang and his troops is held to be of ominous significance for the puppet President and the man who put him where he is today—Marshal Wu Pei-fu. A delayed Reuter telegram published today tells us that the Christian General completely controls the capital. He has issued a proclamation categorically denouncing the war, which he says "is ruining China," and has called a conference of Government officials and others with a view to ending hostilities. The Peking public slept peacefully on Wednesday night not suspecting the coup d'etat which was carried out during the night secretly and quietly with dramatic suddenness. While the Government is nominally carrying on, there can be little doubt that President Tsao Kun and his virtual master, Wu Pei-fu, have shot their bolt, and that unlike his overwhelming victory at Changsintien over Marshal Chang Tso-lin over two years ago, his present venture is likely to be an ill-starred enterprise, if it is not already that now. Perhaps General Feng sensed Chinese public opinion on the question of the present conflict in China. Though this public opinion is more or less inarticulate, nevertheless it is just as much opposed as foreign public opinion to civil war as a business, and if for nothing else than the definite stand he has taken, he will probably command the confidence of the majority of his countrymen. Everyone realises that an indefinite continuance of present conditions is a disgrace to the Chinese Republic. As General Feng says in his circular telegram, the Army's duty should be not to promote internal strife but to safeguard the nation, yet the history of China since 1911 has been one long series of civil wars not one of which was waged for a great principle. For after all, what are the Chinese fighting for?

That is the big question. On closer examination, it will be found that the soldiers of China are frittering away their lives and physical energies to no purpose. Where is it to stop? There surely must be some finality to civil warfare in this country. And if General Feng is inspired by lofty motives of patriotism, his coup d'etat may prove a genuine blessing to his country. While most of the Cabinet Ministers are not believed to be concerned in the Peking plot, a group of prominent young Chinese, including the Minister of Education, Mr. Huang Fu and Dr. C. T. Wang, took part inside Peking and are now endeavoring actively to carry out measures necessary to restore normal conditions as soon as possible. This group assert that they are determined to bring hostilities to an end, after which they intend to call a round-table conference to which they will invite Marshal Chang Tso-lin, Dr. Sun Yat-sen and other leaders, with the object of instituting sound government and of reunifying China. Dr. C. T. Wang is credited with the assertion that Marshal Chang Tso-lin is not unwilling to comply with their wishes.

In that proposition is probably contained the germ of eventual reunification in China—if the authors of the proposal mean what they say. For it is not easy to understand how the country as a whole can progress with the political and military leaders at loggerheads. Chang Tso-lin as an ally of Peking is better than Chang Tso-lin as an antagonist of the only recognised regime in this country. And in the same way, Dr. Sun Yat-sen can render greater services to his country by cooperating with other leaders than by resisting them. The first essential, however, is a real change of heart on the part of those whom the sport of chance has placed in control of large bodies of troops. If the contemplation of the parlous plight to which the country has been reduced by civil war has served to make them repent, the present civil war in China will not have been in vain, and it may be the last one for some time to come. If such a change of heart has really come, we may be on the eve of great events. The time has come to call a halt to the insensate feud between rival militarists which is divesting China of the last vestige of prestige abroad. Marshal Wu Pei-fu's formula of unification by force has had a fair trial. Why not try unification by goodwill? The most enlightened system of rule rests not on force but on mutual consent and confidence, and it is on this basis that the people of China must rebuild that which was destroyed in 1911, and which has not up to this day been replaced by something better. In the meantime, we must frankly confess that past experience has taught us not to be too optimistic. We shall, however, wait and see.

Mob-Law And The Ring

DESPITE the fact that local boxing writers have treated Thursday's fiasco at the Carlton with considerable generosity, there can be very little doubt but that sportsmen at large are disgusted with the whole affair. And to go farther, a repetition of such an incident will have a disastrous effect on boxing in Shanghai. The bout between Mattie Smith and Rufe Canion was expected to be thrilling, but no one anticipated the nature of the result. Most certainly no one foresaw that the clamor of Smith's supporters would be allowed to succeed in overruling the referee's decision, or that the declared winner should be asked to place his victory at stake by continuing the fight. Mattie Smith is said by some to be overtrained, others allege little, if any, training at all, while not a few urge that he was totally unfit for the fight he had undertaken. The cause of the fiasco, in fact, does not matter; Smith was unable to withstand the punishment meted out to him by Rufe Canion, and when the former had made a lamentable exhibition as a passive punching bag for his opponent, the referee stopped the fight and gave Canion the verdict. In that he was absolutely justified. It was no use continuing; the superiority of Canion had been amply proved, and to prolong the contest might have led to the infliction of serious injury upon Smith, which it was the duty of Mr. McCoy to avoid, if possible. The referee saw that, so did the judges who supported him, but the house either could not, or would not, see it. Possibly they hoped, as Smith and his seconds must have done, that, in a continuation, a lucky fluke may have given Smith a victory. It was a forlorn hope. The house demanded a continuance, so did Smith's seconds and so did Smith himself. And eventually he got it. Clamor overruled the decision of referee and judges, and Canion, who was under no obligation to do so, consented to continue the fight. Meanwhile, Smith, under the frantic ministrations of his aides, made some little recovery but not sufficient to allow him to offer serious opposition to Canion, who speedily justified the decision he had already gained, by repeatedly flooring Smith, until his seconds threw in the sponge.

In the whole incident only the referee, judges and Canion can escape criticism. For had the two former not taken the action they did, and Smith had received serious injury, the blame would have been theirs, and they would have incurred a responsibility which might not have been light. Canion, in response to the wishes of the house, resumed the fight. He was not obliged to but he did, and, when all is said and done, finished off his work as mercifully as possible in the circumstances. We do not suppose he relished his task any more than we did, witnessing him perform it. Was Mattie Smith fit? That is a question which many asked and upon which there are many opinions. Possibly he was as fit as he could be in the circumstances, or as fit as he ever will be at his age. If he were, his exhibition on Thursday was lamentable; if he were not, he ought not to have been allowed in the ring. And this raises a point which requires to be emphasised. It seems incumbent on the Boxing Association to ensure certainty that men who enter the ring on such arduous contests are in condition to undergo the ordeal, for should a fatal accident ever occur, someone will be held responsible, and the results may not be altogether pleasant. There seems to be no reason why contestants should not be required to submit to a medical examination before entering the ring, in the interests of the men themselves, the patrons of the sport, and the management. This may possibly lead to disappointments occasionally; men may be declared unfit at the last moment, and patrons may, for the moment, be irritated, but in the long run the management, by such honest dealing all round, would gain. If anything unfortunate had happened to Smith after the resumption of the fight, the responsibility would certainly not have been that of those umpiring the contest; it would have devolved upon Smith and his seconds. And while no one will deny him due admiration for his pluck, few will accord praise to either him or his seconds for the discretion they displayed on this occasion. In any event, we do not suppose Smith will fight again in Shanghai; it would be unwise if he did, for it would put a strain on his popularity which it might not comfortably stand.

And now as to the house. It was pro-Smith; it wanted to see Smith win, and it is possible that the painful scene it witnessed in the opening rounds disturbed its better judgment and caused it to infringe all the canons of sportsmanlike conduct. The arbiters of a boxing contest are the referee and judges. Their decision is, and ought to be, final, but if the spectators are to constitute themselves a court of appeal, the sooner boxing is dropped in Shanghai the better. The officials who controlled and judged the fight in question have the confidence of our boxers and the public. Their decision on this occasion was quickly proved to be right, even though Smith had an opportunity to recuperate, which, in the ordinary course of events, he never should have had. The public was wrong. Even if by some "fluke" Smith had eventually won, the result, from a sporting point of view, would have been entirely unsatisfactory and open to every conceivable criticism.

To sum up, the whole incident is unpleasant, and has created a great deal of dissatisfaction in which we know at least one guarantor shares, and unless something is done to prevent a recurrence of such things, boxing in Shanghai, which has shown a pleasing revival, will soon regain the low ebb at which it was a few years ago.

Latin America Prepares For Fight To Ban Liquor

New York, August 31.—Will the soda fountain supplant the bar in Latin America? Will "pop" some day take the place of "pulque," of mescal, of chicha and the other native and imported wines and alcoholic beverages now used so extensively in the countries of South and Central America, Mexico and the West Indies?

These are questions which may evoke a smile, but which, nevertheless, can be asked with all seriousness, because strange as it may seem to the people of the United States, who naturally associate Spanish America with the "land of the vine," there is a growing tendency toward prohibition in many of the Hispanic American countries.

Restrictive measures already have been adopted in a number of these Southern republics, while educational work in the schools and through anti-alcoholic leagues is progressing and efforts are being made in some of these countries to bring about more drastic prohibitory legislation. The restrictive measures usually have had as their object the improvement of economic conditions. Their main purpose has been to prevent the Indians and other native workers from over indulgence in their favorite alcoholic beverages, which would incapacitate them for useful labor during several days of the week.

OBREGON PREDICTS "DRY" MEXICO

The Presidents of several of the Latin-American republics have been taking a leading part in the move to encourage prohibition. They have been actuated largely by their belief that over indulgence in strong drink is injurious both physically and economically to the working classes, and therefore to the state as a whole.

President Obregon and President elect Calles of Mexico and President Alessandri of Chili are chief executives who are advocates of prohibition, or, at least, of strict regulation of the drinking habit.

President Obregon has expressed the opinion in a recent letter to a prominent church official in the United States that he confidently expects that "within the next ten years Mexico will be dry." He declares that the tendency in his country is "toward prohibition, and that at an early date Mexico will enterr that state. The President-elect of Mexico, Gen. Plutarco Elais Calles, who, as Governor of Sonora, a few years ago worked for prohibition in that state, declared during his recent trip through the United States that he thought alcohol was harmful "politically and economically," and that prohibition was the "best thing for the workers and therefore the state."

President Alessandri of Chile, a strong friend of labor, who during his administration has secured much legislation of benefit to the working classes, has gone so far in his fight against alcoholism as to make a personal issue of it by cutting down all the vines which he owned and to plant walnut trees in their stead. The sale of liquors in mining and nitrate camps in Chile is forbidden; bars are closed from Saturday evening to Monday morning and on all holidays, as also in a number of other Latin American countries; and it is unlawful to establish bars within a certain distance of churches and educational institutions. There are regulations to prevent the clandestine sale of liquor. Chile has a national league against alcholism.

Although Chile probably has conducted a more active campaign in this direction than any other South American country, there are anti-alcoholic leagues in Argentina, Bolivia, Uruguay and some of the other nations, while most of them have some form or regulatory legislation and educational work is conducted in the schools. In Uruguay the sale or consumption of intoxicants is forbidden in all army units and buildings and on naval vessels, also in the neighborhood of markets, parks and harbors. In Paraguay prohibition zones have been established, this having been brought about by the American meat-packing concerns established Ecuador and Colombia all have there. Similarly, Peru, Brazil, adopted some regulations to prevent excessive drinking. In Guatemala several Indian tribes, with due ceremony, annually pay a tribute of silver to the government to prevent the establishment of saloons or bars in their districts; they do not want any disturbance there. These same Indians, however, according to reports, go over into neighboring territory to indulge their alcoholic tastes.

SODA FOUNTAINS TO LATIN AMERICA

Prohibition workers in the United States see in the recently growing sale by this country of soda fountains and fruit juices to Latin America a finger board pointing in the direction of ultimate alcoholic aridity throughout Spanish America. It is only within the past year or so, they point out, that the United States has been selling any marked quantity of these thirst-quenching supplies to her sister American republics. Even Cuba, not usually considered as showing any tendency to "dry-ness," has bought during the past few months, according to Commerce Department figures, more than $10,000 worth of fruit juices, while Cuba, Argentina and Panama are listed as among those having bought soda fountain or appliances.

There are various economic factors, the prohibition leaders state, which must be overcome in the fight against alcohol in most of the Latin American countries. One of these is to find a market or outlet for the natural products of those countries, largely agricultural. In Cuba the wastes from sugar production have been turned into rum; therefore another market for industrial alcohol must be found, it is asserted. A similar problem is met in most of the other countries.

INSTRUCTION IN SCHOOLS

In the lectures and instruction now being given in the schools of many of the Spanish American countries, prohibition advocates in the United States see one of the strongest future weapons of attack against intoxicants. They point out that this was one of the early means used in this country to prepare the way for prohibition legislation; and they believe in time it will have like effects in Latin America. Recently, according to a report to the Pan-American Union, a pamphlet translated from the English, entitled "Scientific Manual of Prohibition," was distributed in all the schools of Peru. Similarly in Mexico the department of education recently placed temperance textbooks in the hands of its public school teachers.

Custom and many other factors may make total prohibition, even in name, a slow process in Latin America; but efforts to secure more temperate use of all intoxicating drinks and to bring about a gradual diminiution in their use already are showing results in many of the countries, and the prohibition workers believe that ultimate prohibition is only a question of time.

More Truth Than Poetry

BY S. E. KISER

My first love was a maiden who
Was seventeen when I was nine;
I worshipped for a month or two,
Believing her to be divine;
She never knew how I was thrilled
By any mention of her name—
That early passion died, somehow;
Just why I don't remember now,
But she, I'm sure, was not to blame.

Then followed Gertrudes, Mauds, Maries
And Lillians and Ruths and Jeans,
Inspiring lively ecstasies
While I was getting through my teens;
I told my love to some of them,
Some I beheld with mute regard;
I think that there were three or four
Or five or six or maybe more
Whose coldness hit me very hard.

There was a lovely widow (grass)
Who held my fancy for a year;
I used to rush to see her pass,
And, sighing, watch her disappear.
She luckily had common sense
When I was twenty and had none;
She kissed me kindly when she led
Me to the door, one night, and said:
"I'll always love you—as a son!"

Each time I thought would be the last,
An error that most men have made;
The wounds that Love inflicts heal fast,
The scars are very quick to fade;
I may be fickle; I've been told
I am by those who claim to know,
But no remorse beclouds my thought—
I've never "beat 'em up" or shot
Them down because I loved them so.

Hall's Distemper has led the way to a new era in house decoration—the era of brighter, cleaner and healthier homes.

It is the most durable of all decorations, lasting for years with freshness unimpaired, whereas wall-papers deteriorate from the first day by fading and accumulating dust and dirt.

Hall's Distemper is a thorough disinfectant, and is applied directly upon the wall, forming a hard surface, from which dust and dirt may be "spring-cleaned" by lightly sponging with warm water.

Hall's Distemper

is a unique preparation and has the recommendation of leading sanitary authorities, architects, and decorators everywhere.

Meauring Distance By Light And Sound

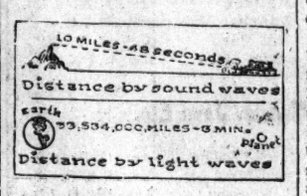
BY GARRETT P. SERVISS.

If an aeroplane could travel with perfect uniformity of speed the best way to measure the distance between New York and San Francisco, or New York and London, would be by the time of the flight between them. That would be applying with modern scientific improvements, the old method of the Indians, who reckoned distances by the time of their runners needed to pass over them.

Recently we have seen the same principle applied in measuring the sea depths by the time required for a reflected soundwave to return from the bottom. More imposing to the imagination is the used of this method in connection with the waves of light passing from sun to planet, from world to world, and from most distant stars to the earth. This furnishes an excellent check on the correctness of measurers made in other ways.

It may not be generally known that astronomers use "light time" to record the distances of not only the far-off stars, whose remoteness is reckoned, in "light years," but also of some of the planets, particularly Mars and Jupiter, whose distance from the earth is continually varying.

But the planets are comparatance for the stars is the light-year, or the distance that a wave of light travels in space in the course of one year. This is found by multiplying the number of seconds in a year by 186,300, the number of miles that the light-wave goes in one second.



But the planets are comparatively so near that the light-year is by far too large a standard to use in reckoning their distances. Even a light-day would be too long, and the light-minute is employed instead. This corresponds to only 11,178,000 miles, instead of the 5,879,189,000,000 miles represented by the light-year.

For instance, at the time of Mars's nearest approach to the earth, August 22, its "light time" was three and one-tenth minutes, corresponding to 34,651,800 miles. But at the beginning of the year it had been no less than 16.86 minutes corresponding to a distance of 188,461,000. By the end of December Mars will have receded so far that its light will take nine and four-tenths minutes to come to the earth.

Then take Jupiter; at the beginning of the year its light time nine and 51 minutes, corresponding to 570,000,000 miles; but at its nearest approach in June it was less than thirty-six light minutes from us. This change was almost entirely due to the fact that between January and June the earth moved from a position on the opposite side of the sun from Jupiter, to a position on the same side with him, so that it was nearer to him by the whole diameter of its orbit.

When we come to a body as near the moon, we must reduce our "time-stick" from minutes to seconds, for in one minute a wave of light travels about 45 times as far as from the earth to the moon. The waves of sun-light reflected from the moon's barren surface take out much more than one second and a quarter to reach us. From the sun their journey takes about eight and one-third minutes.

Its average speed may be put at 1085 feet per second, or in round numbers, a mile in five seconds. During the war important use was made of sound waves in the atmosphere to ascertain the distance of the enemy's guns, etc. They are similarly useful in times of peace, and might be more often employed.

MAKE YOUR DAILY HOME-COMING FROM WORK A JOYFUL EVENT

How about it, Mr. Husband and Father. Do you stir up the entire household when you reach home in the evening by your commands to hurry this and hurry that.

Do you grumble if you have to wait a few minutes for your meals; if your wife is not dressed as you would like to see her, or the children are not spic and span?

In fact, is your arrival the signal for home pleasure to cease and tumult to begin all on account of your irritable, disagreeable ways?

You may have had a hard day at the office or shop.

Your wife may have had equally as hard a day in the house.

She may feel like letting down her efforts a little as you have since you left your work.

Home cannot be hurry and hustle all the time and with a family, no matter what you think to the contrary, your wife has to hurry and worry all day long and does not take the nap and the rest that you seem to think she can if she wishes.

Each member of the family should try to be helpful at home.

The idea that those who work down town are the only ones to be considered at night or on their return from work is mistaken and selfish.

Help the family. Don't hurry them.

Any time wife sits at the window listening for the rattle of the taxicab, and hearing, instead, the rattle of the milk cans, she visualizes hubby enmeshed in the silken coils of a lady exactly like the Vampire in "A Fool There Was," the great picture which will be the attraction at the Isis Theatre next week.

DRESS

By Mary Marshall

Leather Is Used as Triming By Milliners, Dressmakers and Furriers

Dressmakers still rob the shoemakers, and shoemakers still rob the dressmakers. And milliners help themselves to materials of all sorts. Dresses and coats are made of blankets. Brandt has just shown an evening coat made of a fine Oriental rug. Galon—why not use the good English word gallon?—was once the exclusive property of the upholsterer but it plays in important role with milliners and dressmakers.

A mole cape recently shown in Paris had a fringe of matching leather, and the smartest way of making up mole at the present time is with insertions of matching leather. This calls for much labor in construction of the coat, but adds greatly to its value in the eyes of the fashionable.

A new way of making use of leather is in collars and cuffs, some of these in white and others in bright colors or with metal finish. They show scalloped edges with cutout design—simple of construction, yet quite effective—and one set cleverly combines gold leather with an edging of cream lace.

Sets of collars and cuffs are a good investment at this time of the year, and often give the best solution to the problem of making last season's frocks wearable for the present.

Doubtless the idea of detachable flaring cuffs of leather was first suggested by the gauntlet glove. It was a simple matter to attach the kid cuff to the end of the sleeve instead of the glove, the matching collar was just a natural extension of the same idea.

The woman who is inspired with the idea of making her own leather collars and cuffs may meet with a little disappointment. It is not the easiest thing in the world to get kid and leather for dressmaking or millinery purposes. But if kid and leather continue to play an important role in trimming then before long the shops will display skins of various colors.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

WHEN THERE'S SOUP

The custom used to be among most Americans to pass crackers with soup, regardless of the sort soup it was. Crackers came on with the soup and were taken off with it. Not long ago it was quite an innovation to serve bread with the soup course.

There are still times when crackers seem to be well chosen—with oyster, clam or lobster soup. With clear soup it is considered correct to pass bread sticks or bread, and with puree or any thick soup, croutons are in order. With chowders, authorities tell us to pass large croutons.

Some epicures like pumpernickle with certain soups. They want it cut quite thin and served in the form of small sandwiches. If you wish you may serve any dark whole bread in the form of small sandwiches with the soup course.

BUTTER FOR DINNER

It s the custom of this country to serve bread and butter or some sort of "bread substitute" and butter three times a day. We have butter and muffins or rolls or toast or pancakes for breakfast. For luncheon we have bread or hot biscuits or muffins or johnnycake or some such thing, and for dinner we have bread or dinner rolls. Now in France bread and butter are most important at breakfast. The Frenchman eats more bread at breakfast because he seldom eats porridge —or "breakfast food." He may eat bread and butter for luncheon, though at fashionable French hotels, when bread is served at luncheon, it takes the form of an hors d'oeuvre or "appetizer," along with radishes or olives, and is removed before a second course is brought on. But bread and butter do not appear at dinner. Nor do English people usually have bread and butter at dinner. Of course there are many Americans, following the European custom, who dispense with bread at dinner. Really it's not a bad idea, especially in the family where the tendency is to eat too much starch and where there is an inclination to overweight.
